VALIANTNESS

Venturing into the unknown is an unimaginably difficult endeavour, yet it is one that you, our dauntless saviors, willingly oblige yourself to.

Endless rows of crimson poppies fabricate a path before you on this day, commemorating the pivotal steps you have taken into making our world into a haven.

To which, we owe our utmost gratitude for, as liberty and joyousness as we know it would merely be a figment of our desirous minds, if not for your unvanquishable dedication to our country. Anywhere you tread, your presence is

Eminent to us. Crowds roar while hands rise, as people whose lives you have put in front of your own, celebrate the newfound freedom accessible to them because of you. Even when you are oceans away, our minds never cease to put you from our thought. We Rejoice at every moment as we appreciate that the universe has gifted us with such valiant heroes and martyrs.

America, the home of the brave and free, a land that was established with equal intent, and whose rights and liberties were solidified by the Constitution, would eventually crumble if not for your valorous backs that proudly carry the country we call ours.

Now, we stand before you, and acknowledge the everlasting mark you've left on our glorious flag of red, white, and blue.

Astonishing, appealing, and admiring for your bravery and courage to go to a war, knowing there is a chance your life might be taken.

Nice, nobal, and notable for being such a inspiration, indescribable in words. Some people don't take the time to realize how important veterans truly are. Veterans are people who are brave enough to go to war and fight for our freedom which is truly inspiring. If it wasn't for them, we wouldn't have the things we have today, like homes, freedom to do things in general. They are brave and encouraging for their bravery and will to protect us even if it means risking their lives. We truly appreciate your bravery and how you risked your life for our freedom, even if it means living with scars, please just know your beautiful on the inside and outside, you don't need to look appealing cause your already a good person for fighting for us and your family. -Fifth grade student.
